If there were one thing in our summer life-style that could be described as a happening, the scene on our cover would be it. Just after taking the photos I sat down to enjoy the concert and Roger Kelley told me that his brother, visiting from New Jersey, had been completely overwhelmed by the same scene one week before. His brother had exclaimed, "It's just like a Norman Rockwell painting." And, so it is. All the good and gentle quality of music surrounded by Mattapoisett Harbor. It's an important part of our life and it is very special; very Norman Rockwell.

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting

AUGUST 18, 1987-by VIRGINIA ARRAL

WINDSURFING RESTRICTED

Four concerned Pico Beach residents met with Selectmen last Tuesday to complain about the problem with windsurfers in their beach area. Allen D'Orlando, Diane D'Orlando, John M. Hall and John W. Hall agreed there is a real danger to children in the beach area.

"They are coming in here from Ned's Point, and they move fast. It's reasonable to assume kids in the 7 to 12 year age bracket out there are in danger. The boards are coming in up to 20 miles per hour just missing the kids. We worry one of them will get killed," said Allen D'Orlando.

The Board agreed to place orange buoys out covering an area "on a straight line out from the fence at Ned's Point to an approximate point 200 yards from the boats moored in the Pico Beach area, thus restricting the windsurfers to the south side of the orange floats away from the Pico Beach section".

"We've called the police," said Diane D'Orlando, "but there's only so much they can do." Selectman William F. Hubbard said the number of windsurfers is becoming frustrating because by the time the police get there, the surfers are gone. Hubbard noted the markers will be placed 200 yards from the boats moored at Pico Beach to restrict the windsurfers away from Pico Beach -- then the windsurfers should police themselves.

Mr. D'Orlando said that 80 to 90 percent of the windsurfers come from Ned's Point, but noted a lot go out and only some are a problem. "Most people want to be good neighbors and will cooperate - the problem is strangers when they tell you to go to hell then get on their boards and move away," said Mr. D'Orlando.

Mr. D'Orlando related an incident when young children were in the water about three feet from shore when a windsurfer fell over and just missed one of the children. A mother went out to speak to the windsurfer and she was told to "go to hell". In another incident, youngsters were diving off a boat when a windsurfer came in a straight line with the boat and barely missed the boat but ran into the exposed yellow rope. This knocked the windsurfer over and the board hit the boat turning the boat over.

Harbormaster Steven Mach has placed a sign on the fence at Ned's Point reading, "All windsurfing must sail on the south side of the orange floats -- per order of the Board of Selectmen".

In other business, Selectmen:

WERE INFORMED by Town Counsel Donald J. Fleming that Steven D. Ruel and Mary Linhares are the Plaintiffs in a Superior Court Appeals case on a complaint filed against the Mattapoisett Zoning Board of Appeals and Building Inspector David Crook on August 13th. The case concerns the Appeals Board's decision on the use of property at 102 Fairhaven Road, owned by Mary Linhares. On August 7th the Appeals Board denied the plaintiff's appeal of a Cease and Desist Order issued by the Building Inspector.

a portion of her lot of vacant land, adjacent to his own business which was used for the display of new boats for retail sale to the general public (Ensign Marine Specialties, 123-125 Fairhaven Road). Both front Fairhaven Road (Route 6) and are in the General Business Zone.

The Building Inspector ordered a cease and desist on May 26th claiming illegal storing of boats on the lot. The plaintiffs claim the boats were not stored, but were for retail sale, which is a permitted use in a General Business district. On June 25th, the plaintiffs' appeal to the order was subsequently denied and the order affirmed. The plaintiffs claim the decision is invalid as it interpreted the law incorrectly and it exceeds the legal authority of the Appeals Board. The plaintiffs request the cease and desist order be cancelled and/or reversed. In the Appeals court case the plaintiffs request they be allowed to use the lot for display and retail sale of boats, and that the order be annulled and/or reversed and the court award the plaintiffs damages and attorney's fees as deemed just and proper.

Mr. Dupont said he was not living around Mattapoisett at the time

Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta explained the land now belongs to the Town and "we are not ready to put it out to public bid". The attorney asked why the town can't sell the land privately. The chairman replied, "Under state law, the land has to go out to bid so all can benefit."

Selectman Hubbard noted "we are not interested in selling at this time. We would like to keep it as perhaps we might need it for a pumping station what with all the water problems in that area."

Chairman DeCosta added that the lot is wooded, is not directly on the water and is only 13,000 square feet with a 130 foot frontage; this is not a buildable lot.

WERE INVITED by the Town of Rochester and the State Division of Marine Fisheries to attend a ribbon-cutting ceremony on September 4th at the site of the newly rebuilt Snipatuit Fishway in Rochester. The ceremony will mark the first completed project in the state's recently funded fishway program along the Mattapoisett River.

WERE NOTIFIED by the Personnel Board that its members have denied the request of the Council on Aging for a paid vacation for the Council's bus driver, Delia Caton. The Personnel Board concluded that since Delia Caton is a part-time employee, the Board's by-laws do not include a paid vacation as a provided benefit. The Personnel Board noted its past experience has allowed part-time employees to take time off without pay as long as they have permission from their supervisors.

NOTED the Harbormaster/Wharf Commissioner is in the process of compiling an accurate list of rental moorings and slips for the town. The list will be utilized to help develop the town's "Harbor Plan", said Steven Mach, Harbormaster.

A collage of photos taken during the summer of the various activities and persons involved was presented to Selectmen by Pam Hiller, in her third year as Recreation Director, and Karen Holden, in her first year as Arts and Crafts instructor. On the top the collage read "Mattapoisett Recreation says Thank You".

Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta asked, "Are you having fun?" His response was a chorus of "yah, yahs". The Chairman expressed the board's congratulations to the instructors on a super job and said the children should be glad they have someone as interested in helping them as Pam Hiller and Karen Holden.

Pam Hiller said they had an average of 20 to 30 children per day, and up to 40 on one day. She said they were lucky to have had only two days of rain all summer. Karen Holden said working with the children was very enjoyable and they had fun making the colorful masks of plaster of paris, then painting them with the children using their imagination for designs.

Marion Selectmen's Meeting

AUGUST 18, 1987
submitted by EUNICE MANDUCA

At last Tuesday's meeting of the Marion Selectmen, the Selectmen voted at the recommendation of Shirley Hughes, Council on Aging Coordinator, to accept volunteer contributions from users of elderly bus service.

Mr. and Mrs. Ainsley of Cranberry Way spoke on the concern about water quality on Cranberry way. Robert Sundbland stated that the town has spent many thousands of dollars on engineering studies with no discernible improvement in water quality. Betsy Dunn requested additional biological and toxicological studies. Merrill Worthen suggested that the town publish a request for proposal with specifics on Marion water problems. Marion Natural History Museum announced a special program on August 27th at 7:30 p.m. to address the water quality problem. Philip Taylor, Chemist, will express concerns and possible solutions.

son reported on the Upper Cape Cod Vocational-Technical High School in Bourne. Marion students have decreased from 21 to 12 over the past year. All concerned agreed that a better job must be done to communicate the enormous benefits of a vocational education.

Selectmen received letters from:

Richard Arthur notifying the Selectmen that Sippican Corporation is planning a 30,000 square foot expansion on Barnabas Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Gotshalk objecting to a horse being kept on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Reardon. Mr. and Mrs. Reardon informed the Selectmen that the horse has not been moved to their property yet. Selectman Richard Lagreze noted that he had inspected the Reardon stable area and found it to be well planned and neat.

Harbormaster requesting permission to advertise surplus property, mostly abandoned dinghys. It was voted.

A letter was received regarding flooding on Point Road. The DPW will investigate.

They were hardworking, artistic craftsmen and their arts and crafts live to show this. Today we get great satisfaction learning a craft but it is essentially a hobby for pleasure. In the eras gone by everyone used their talents and ingenuity to make what were utilitarian necessities.

The rooms and shops in the Carriage Shed show the surroundings where our forbears worked and we can marvel at what they produced.

In the "Prairie Home Companion" radio show there was "Lake Wobegon, the little town that time forgot". The reason for the mass appeal and identification is that everyone has a little town in the minds' eye that remains unspoiled by the passage of time. There are still places on the east coast where little towns have been passed by by "progress". Little Compton, Rhode Island is an example. The village square retains the beauty

End of Summer Party

The "End of the Summer" Party for the participants of the swimming and playground programs was a huge success. There were 96 children who participated in the afternoon's events that included a hot dog roast, relays, tug-of-war, a sand sculpture contest, and a newcome tournament.

The children were divided into three teams and competed for team points. The red team came in first followed by the white team, and the blue team took third place. Each team member received a ribbon that designated their team's standing.

The Recreation Commission and their staff would like to thank Davidson's and Mr. Meat for the hot dogs and Sunbeam Bakery for the rolls. Their donations were great-

Growth Management

THREE HARBORS/EACH WITH UNIQUE PROBLEMS

by VIRGINIA ARRAL

Harbormaster Steven Mach explained to members of the Mattapoisett Growth Management Study Committee and interested residents last Thursday at Village Court that there are really three separate harbors in Mattapoisett to manage - Aucoot Cove, Brandt Island, the Village. He said he is hoping to get individuals interested in certain sections to work in small groups to give input for an overall harbor picture, as each has its own unique problems.

The Harbormaster recommended dividing the three sections as follows for the study group: from Angelica to the Marion line; Mattapoisett Neck to the Fairhaven line; and the third section all the harbor in between Angelica and Mattapoisett Neck. He cited the problem with the incredible number of windsurfers this year at Ned's Point, Crescent Beach and Pico Beach as that section's particular problem.

Conducting the meeting was Peter Kortright, who requested that each of the sub-committees discuss its progress. Among guests introduced were Wallace and Judy Underwood, Joseph and Judy Jackson and David McIntire, Jr.

Steven Mach said he has met with his sub-committee Michael Dahill and Richard Young to kick around ideas and problems that could be coming up. More specifically, he said they talked about moorings - how many more the town can fit; ratio of moorings to people in town versus out-of-town people; the condition of the wharves; ways of raising money on the water; and where the money goes when it comes in so that money generated on the water and wharves gets to be used to solve waterfront problems and not go into the general fund.

Mr. Underwood said he was on the previous Harbor Study committee and not much got accomplished. He urged the study committee to not limit its imagination. Think what if? What will happen? Don't be too conservative, he stressed. Mrs. Underwood asked about state matching funds. The Harbormaster replied that in the past "we've been reluctant to take state money as it placed restrictions on the town." Mrs. Underwood commented, "In the past we had hurricanes to get money for wharf repair."

The Harbormaster noted he is working with Shellfish Constable Brian Nunes to coordinate moorings in certain areas where Nunes is planting shellfish.

Secretary to the Committee Elaine Sylvia commented on the difficulty she experienced recently gaining access to the town-owned beach past Angelica Point and Strawberry Point. She said a private party denied her access although it is town-owned land. Few residents realize what a pretty spot the town owns.

Although the study committee agreed it should discuss possible zoning changes for a future town meeting, it was stressed the changes would not be reached without a thorough investigation and education of the public with public hearings. Planning Board member

Presto Friends:

Let's talk about watches.

The fact is, there is not one watch sold today that is manufactured in the U.S.A. The old names are Waltham, Hamilton, Elgin, but the movements and cases are made elsewhere. This is not bad, but it is a question that is asked a lot. Now, what is bad is if you buy a watch for $100.00 or more without the proper guidance. A watch in this price range is special and really should be considered a fine piece of jewelry as well as a fine timepiece.

First question to ask: is the retailer a service center for this? After all, if they can't change a cell properly without scratching the case or slipping when opening the case and damaging the movement or putting the cell in without loosening the screw, do you want to buy that fine watch from them? Next, consider the name on the dial. Unless it is well known, brand parts for the movement can be obsolete within a year. Is the band one he can replace with the original only, or can another band fit it at the time of replacement?

Remember, if you are going to spend a sizable amount of money for a 14kt watch or a diamond watch, you do not want to depend on a merchandiser. Depend only on a legitimate Jeweler at the point of sale and for service year after year.

Lawrence O'Pezio said the townspeople must understand what we're doing is aimed at zoning changes, but that any action will be a collective town decision. He suggested a zoning by-law development subgrowth might be advisable.

Russell Chase, who is involved in the Commercial and Industrial sub-committee, spoke of the lack of land zoned for business development. He felt most zoning changes were made as a reaction to events and not planned before. He also noted the cost to build apartments that are affordable is becoming increasingly more costly to build with resulting high rents, leaving no places for young people starting out to live in Mattapoisett.

Robert Coquillette, Historical District sub-committee chairman, reported steps have been taken in the proper legal procedures for the town to consider a historical district. The Selectmen have been notified and have approved the appointment of a committee of at least five members to prepare the necessary information. A preliminary report will be given later to the Selectmen, Planning Board and the state Historical Commission and then to the townspeople for input. Mr. Coquillette noted we may need help later in planning open meetings, which will be held in the Historical Museum on Church Street.

Randall Kunz, who is on the steering committee, commented on his concern for the increase in traffic in the village not only by out-of-towners but by local residents. The objection isn't the cars, but it's the competition of cars and bikes and walkers making it conjested.

Chairman Kortright expressed the hope after the Labor Day holiday residents interested in the growth of Mattapoisett and the direction it will take will participate more, especially in those specific sub-committees studying such subjects as housing, harbor, open land preservation; commercial development, historic district and town public facilities, such as water and sewer concerns.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, September 3rd, at 7:30 p.m. at Village Court. This meeting will not have the guest speaker from Boston on the Massachusetts Partnership affordable housing program due to a conflict in dates. enced by Leonard Baskin. He also explored the works of the Old Masters when he received a grant to study art in England and Europe. In his southern California childhood he was keenly aware of Disneyland and the genius of Walt Disney. All of these influences and more have come together in images that are bold and clearly defined; vibrantly alive, yet warmly intimate. His subjects are often human beings and their relationship with another person or with a beloved activity such as reading. Reading and children are important subjects, and Mr. Hidy has received many commissions from libraries and publishers.

Hidy's posters are a culmination of all he has learned about visual impact and art as communication; art for everyone. Lance Hidy will share his knowledge and belief that "Words and pictures communicate together better than alone, and are capable of reaching large audiences" in a lecture to be given at the Marion Art Center on Wednesday, September 23rd, at 7:30 p.m., the final day of the exhibition. Sarah Moore Warren's paper sculptures and handmade paper will be on display in the Patsy Francis Gallery. Made of pure linen or other less well-known fibres, these sculptures and mobiles have a lightness and strength found in no other medium. For this exhibit Ms. Warren has brought from her studio in Vermont a sculpture series inspired by American Indian artifacts. She has created a set of "archaeological" objects complete with renderings of the "Souls" to whom the artifacts belonged in Ancient Times.

A graduate of Swarthmore College, Ms. Warren received an M.Ed. from the University of Chicago. She then moved to New York City where she studied art and Chinese brushwork. About making paper, Ms. Warren states: "Each sheet is unique and I am able to enjoy the freedom and the fluidity of the medium while controlling the design which I create."

Sarah Warren has agreed to share her knowledge of the ancient and worldwide art of paper-making in a workshop to be held at the Marion Art Center on Saturday, September 19th, from 9 to noon. Space is limited. The fee is $20. plus some materials. Call 748-1266.

Letter to Editor

Last Wednesday's letter to the editor, "Why Petition?", by Dale and James Bradshaw attempted to update and explain the complex and extended issues surrounding the Old Rochester Regional School District's budget. It further attempted to list the proposed budget cuts and some effects those cuts might have on our students in particular and our community in general. Finally, it was a concerned and caring "last hope" effort to summon support from Mattapoisett's registered voters for the passage of an article that would see if the town would vote to raise and appropriate, borrow or transfer from available funds, the sum of $94,591.00 at this Thursday's town meeting.

Although there are presently two articles on the town warrant, the intent of both articles is essentially the same (the second article being a further clarification of the total amounts to be funded). It is my understanding that the petitioners therefore intend to withdraw Article 1 and seek passage of Article 2.

Certainly, all of the controversy surrounding the ORR School District Budget has given those of us who are trying to be conscientious voters plenty of food for thought. There is, however, another point of reference to consider.

A good school system provides benefits to a community which extend far beyond the concerns of those people who have an immediate interest in that school system. To support this contention, a recent article appearing in the Real Estate section of the Boston Globe stated that there is a definite correlation between the perceived quality of a town's public educational system and the perceived value of that town's real estate. One of the reasons why Mattapoisett has been considered "special" for so many years (and perhaps it is even the reason why you moved here) is that Mattapoisett's school system has been considered outstanding. Let's make it so again. Vote yes on Article 2. Whether you have school age children in the school system or not, you become a beneficiary of that system.

QUESTION:
WHY SHOULD ATHLETES HAVE CHIROPRACTIC SPINAL MANIPULATION?

ANSWER: Because it can help their performance.

Many amateur and professional athletes are sidelined with injunes that could be avoided. Others sit it out on the bench beceuse their injury just doesn't seem to respond to ordinery treatment. Still others are playing, but at less than their peak efficiency simply because their structural system is not in balance.

Progressive coaches and treiners are realizing that pain-killing drugs ere not the enswer. Drugs and medications merely cover up the symptom, deceiving the player into actions which could make the injury more serious

Probably more than any other health profession, chiropractic's approech to health closely relates to the needs of the sports participant. Most sports involve body contact, leverage, fest sterts and stops, and positioning that places an unusual strain on the back and structural system Doctors of chiropractic consider the human as an integrated being, giving special attention to spinal mechanics and neurological, muscular and vascular reletionships. Chiropractic is a neturel heelth care method that stresses the importance of keeping ell the systems of the body functioning efficiently, so the player enjoys peak performance, a minimum injury risk and fast recuperetive powers.

Here's what you can do:
• Meke certain that your athletes are properly prepared for the sport. Preventive care dictates the wisdom of visiting a doctor of chiropractic for a spinal examination on a regular basis. If the diagnosis shows anything not within the scope of chiropractic treatment, the conscientious doctor of chiropractic will refer the athlete to one of the other health specialties.
• Meke certain that a doctor of chiropractic is a member of your health teem. Many of the high-performing professional and amateur teems have retained doctors of chiropractic as their team physicians
• Minimize the use of drugs and medications and utilize natural health methods

SEPTEMBER PROGRAMS OFFERED

On September 5th the Museum offers a NATURE DISCOVERY WALK. The walk, to start at 10:30 a.m., is held on the Museum's grounds. The walk is a relaxed, educational look at the fields, woods and ponds, under the very able guidance of one of our instructors. This program is free with Museum admission. Registration is appreciated.

On Saturday, September 5th, at 2 p.m., we offer a fascinating and unusual program, "BIRD OF PREY". Falconer Richard Lucius will display live birds of prey. A bird of prey hunts other animals for its food. They have strong feet and sharp talons (claws) for catching their prey. Hooked beaks are used to tear food into small pieces that can be swallowed easily. Dick Lucius will bring to our Museum the following live trained raptors: a red tailed

FALL BIRDS TOPIC OF WEEKLY WALK

With the approach of September songbirds stop their summer singing and are more difficult to observe in the wild. On Sunday, September 6th, the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies will sponsor a weekly walk for bird enthusiasts interested in learning to find them anyway.

"Fall Warblers and Other Migratory Birds" will be led by Center staffer Bob Deegan. He will show walkers how to listen for the notes and calling sounds of the vocal chickadees, which give clues as to the whereabouts of the now silent warblers.

According to Deegan, "In late summer and fall small songbirds and other migratory warblers become quiet foragers. Chickadees, however, maintain loose flocks by keeping in touch with their voices. So, they will tell us where the other birds are."

The walk will take place at 9 a.m. and is free and open to the public thanks to a donation from Marianne Macdonald Real Estate.

To register call the Center at 990-0505.

The Little Harbor WGA held their weekly tournament on Wednesday, August 19th. First place team members were Dot Lazarus, Janice Moody, Flo Hotte, and Dot Bush. Two teams tied for second place: Mary Knehr, Ada Lukey, Joan Jepson, and Pat
